READING COMPREHENSION

Task 3

Read the following information about three restaurants:

 * Trattoria Romana is an excellent Italian restaurant. It has a quiet and relaxing atmosphere, and the service is very good. It's always full, so make a reservation early. The menu is not very big. There are only four main dishes on the menu, but everything is fresh. The chicken with pasta is wonderful. Desserts are their speciality – rich and delicious! It's a little expensive, but very good. You'll spend about $ 35 per person.	  Last Saturday, I was the only customer at Dynasty, a new restaurant on 57th Street. It's not a good place to go. The waiters are slow and unfriendly. The atmosphere is boring and the menu is not attractive. It specializes in American food – only meat and potatoes. But my steak was cold, and the fries were greasy. It isn't cheap, either. It cost me $34. If you go to Dynasty, you certainly don't need a reservation. My suggestion is "Don't go."	  Istanbul Café is a great new Turkish restaurant. Its speciality is meze —lots of different small dishes, hot or cold, some with meat or fish, others vegetarian. For some people, eating meze is a social event before the main dish. The atmosphere is pleasant, and the service is very friendly. There's live Turkish music and dancing on weekends. Istanbul Café is surprisingly inexpensive —about $18 a person, but you need to make a reservation.
